Extension Activities Functions

These are activities that extend beyond the regular academic curriculum, focusing on holistic development.

- Include outreach programs, community service, cultural events, and social initiatives.
- Enhance students' practical skills, leadership qualities, and social responsibility.

NSS is a voluntary organization that aims to develop the personality of students through community service.

- Involves various activities like blood donation camps, cleanliness drives, and awareness programs.
- Fosters a sense of social responsibility and civic engagement among students.

UBA is a flagship program that connects higher educational institutions with rural development.

- Focuses on addressing development challenges in rural areas through sustainable solutions.
- Students and faculty work on projects that contribute to the social and economic well-being of rural communities.

Extension activities encompass a broad range of non-academic pursuits, NSS emphasizes voluntary service for personal and community development, and UBA specifically targets rural development through collaborative efforts between educational institutions and rural communities. Each plays a crucial role in fostering well-rounded individuals and contributing to societal progress.
